

Report from the Golant Summer Produce and Craft Show Committee 2019-

It was in 2009 that we held our First “Flower and Produce Show” , which within 10 years had grown to include a wide variety of crafts, homemade “booze”, limericks and now is known as “Golant Summer Produce and Craft Show”.

We like to think it is a friendly show that all ages can enter, and, of course, there is rivalry within competitors but Chelsea it is NOT. So look at this years schedule for the Show to be held on Sat 11th August in the Village Hall 2-4.30pm and do enter. Schedules will be posted through each property in the village and are available on the Golant web site and in the Fisherman’s Arms. There are lovely teas, ably run by Anne McLeod and Janet Longman. Alastair Barr holds a high speed auction to sell off the produce and crafts that competitors do not want to keep at the end of the show plus a well supported raffle. There are trophies to be won in all classes including children’s. We usually contribute the profit from the show(around £300+) to the Village Hall.
